

CPD SEMINAR

WITH

DAVE EVANS

The Welsh School of Homeopathy is hosting a series of special Continuing Professional Development events and invites you to participate. We are now offering a series of one day events to be held on a Monday from 10.00 to 17.30 at our premises in Carmarthen. These events will provide an opportunity to experience and explore in depth the Tao of Homeopathy as practised by some of the most accomplished and well-known practitioners. We have invited Dave Evans to host the first of these events which will take place on Monday September 13th 2010. The cost for this seminar is £65 and includes refreshments but not lunch. If you would like to join us for this special event then please complete the attached application form.

Dave Evans

Dave is well known to many at the Welsh School, having taught here regularly for the past 10 years. Dave has moved from Cumbria back to his Mancunian roots and is grappling with raising chickens in an urban environment - amongst other challenges! His previous background as a nurse and years of teaching medical sciences at various homoeopathic colleges have deepened his fascination with and curiosity about the human body, in sickness and in health.

During the day, Dave will be looking at how different approaches/methodologies can be adopted/adapted to suit certain situations.

Dave would very much like to make the day as relevant as possible to those of you who are attending and would like to encourage all participants to send him case outlines relating to your own practice, or, failing that, to bring your questions along with you to the day!

Please e.mail him on dave.whc@dsl.pipex.com

Future dates:
8th November 2010 - Mike Bridger
7th March 2011 - Declan Hammond
